The primary reason for the indication of the allowability of claims 1-14, 19 is the inclusion therein of the limitations of a nozzle row in a direction parallel (intersecting) to the conveyance direction of the recording medium, wherein the inkjet recording head includes a plurality of nozzle groups structured by dividing up the nozzle row, and the nozzles of the nozzle row include opposing nozzles which are disposed at a boundary between neighboring nozzle groups which neighbor in the row direction of the nozzle row, the actuators include opposing actuators, which respectively correspond to the opposing nozzles, and actuators within the nozzle groups, which respectively correspond to nozzles neighboring the opposing nozzles in the row direction, and a separation between the opposing actuators disposed at the boundary is equal to or greater than separations between the opposing actuators and the actuators neighboring the opposing actuators in the row direction within the nozzle groups. These limitations are neither suggested nor taught by the prior art of record, alone or in combination as claimed.
